MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

We came to E.N.C. "to get an education." We left our homes, our friends, and our parents to adopt new homes, new friends, and new parents—our "Alma Mater."

Foremost in our minds was a desire to continue our studies in preparation for Christian living. We took courses from many different professors. Some inspired and awakened us; some just added obscure facts. We realized that the classroom did not give us everything that an education requires. Together with our classmates we shared the experiences of college life, planned and attended parties, went with our dates to Boston, the Friday night programs and to the Dugout.

Not only did we go to church "twice on Sunday and once in the middle of the week" but also enjoyed chapel services and personal devotions which created a Christian atmosphere on campus. We watched the society football games and the varsity basketball games. We went into "town"—Wollaston or Quincy to shop or "goof-off."

Now our college days are over but "the laughter we were glad to share will echo through the years." And when we've gone our separate ways we'll have these "MOMENTS TO REMEMBER."

DEDICATION

We will always remember the professor who opened our minds to the world of history, and who inspired some of us to make history our academic career. We will always remember the historian who won the Brewer Award in American Church History and who is just now writing a history of the Church of the Nazarene. We will always remember the man who was able to take us soaring in thought through the orator's art; the practical Christian who carried his Christianity into the classroom as well as the pulpit. We will always remember the thinker and leader who was not afraid to set the standard, the man to whom this book is respectfully dedicated, Dr.

Autumn turns to winter.

Classes 26

"The laughter we were glad to share will echo through the years."

Religious Life 90

The times of meditation and worship.

Student Life 102

The parties, the noisy fun, the quiet times together.

Sports 138

The downtown stores and the hometown churches.

As the autumn turned to winter the school year progressed. We remember the classroom scenes, the days when we did not have our assignments prepared, and the exams we called "hard;" but, most of all we remember our instructors, their faces and their personalities. The FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION represented our purpose in attending college, our desire for academic instruction.

President's Message

There are no more vital years in life than those which are spent on the campus of E. N. C. And if these are years of effort and progress and accomplishment they will provide a multitude of pleasant memories throughout all the after-years.

Some memories will be of the campus, glistening white after a January snowstorm or fragrant with spring in the morning sun after a night of rain. It will not be easy to forget the green lawns bordered with flowers, the magnolia tree in full bloom or moonlight filtering through the lacy fingers of overhanging elms at Commencement time.

Then there will be the atmosphere surrounding a society football game on a brisk October afternoon, those tense moments when the basketball score is tied, and the daily fellowship of the dining hall and the Dugout.

But memories of E. N. C. would not be complete without being able to recall the idiosyncrasies of a favorite professor, moments of illuminating inspiration in the classroom, times of thoughtful reverence in the chapel or of rich blessings in a prayer hour or revival meeting.

Life at E. N. C. is the stuff of which memories are made. And if this life allows for the birth and maturing of a vital Christian experience all memories of E. N. C. will have added richness and meaning.

We remember the many activities which made our junior year at college the best one yet.

The Thanksgiving Day chapel was our special opportunity as a class to present a program which would be entertaining and devotional. The night we welcomed the seniors back from their trip to New Hampshire, the Junior-Senior banquet, and our parts in Commencement highlighted our relations with the "high and mighty" seniors.

We enjoyed our outings and especially the evening at Prof. Smith's house. Through our class meetings we learned more about the running of an organization. Through our prayer meetings we met God as a class as well as individuals.

IN MEMORIAM

William Henderson Davis, Jr., a ministerial student in Eastern Nazarene College, died October 29, 1955 after a long illness.

The epitome of courage and faith, Bill bore a strong testimony to the last. His last witness was given about two months before his death, at a prayer meeting in his home church, Manchester, Conn., when he said: "I began to live in heaven the night Jesus saved my soul. Life for me began then and will last through eternity. I praise my Lord for His boundless love and I know that my future is secure in Him. Praise His name."

Bill was born in Bloomsburg, Pa., the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Davis. He had lived in Manchester about 18 years. He was graduated by Manchester High School in the class of 1948, and then attended the University of Connecticut as a student in engineering. Following his conversion, he enrolled at Eastern Nazarene College to prepare for the ministry, where he was greatly loved and respected as an admirable person and Christian.

The church of the Nazarene in Manchester, which he loved and served so faithfully, named its youth building for him. Bill had served as chairman of the building fund committee. His faith was a source of inspiration to all who knew him. Members of his church said that the influence of his life and the courage which characterized his death were felt throughout the church and community.

Prof. and Mrs. Gery take time out from chaperoning to do some skiing.

The Lodge.

SENIOR TRIP

To the tune of "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

At five one frosty morning,
We tumbled out of bed,
And all dressed up like Eskimos
Our boots they felt like lead,

We headed for the dugout
Where Henry, Em, and Sam
Were busy making breakfast
For all the hungry clan.

At six we left the campus
On a brand new bus we flew
To Woodbound inn, a lake resort
Just eighty miles from school.

Tobogganing was super,
The hills were mighty steep
And if you don't believe it—
Just look at Gail's front teeth.

Esther and Bev. Blaisdell
Were first to try the ice,
And Gery's kept us all straight
With parently advice.

The skiing was terrific,
John Cramer was the star:
Crew, Grosse, and Betty Nelson
Were also up to par.

Adoms, Morehead, Schlosser
Were piled on sleds six high;
Guess who was on the bottom,
Fox, Young, and little Tye.

None were more game than Betty
To try the sleds or skiis:
And Parker with his topcoat,
Came down the hill with ease.

Emily made room checks,
Old Moose lost all his clothes:
Bev's head hit on the bus top,
MocNeil fell on her nose.

John Mori with his camera
Snapped Bob Crew's big bear hugs;
Behind a tree MocPherson,
Hid from a skiing thug.

At night the weary seniors,
Sat down to play some Rook:
The sharks were Shields and Boshort,
Roy Quonstrom was the crook.

While Dot and Paul watched T V,
And Som and Phyl the same:
Emerson sat by A. J.
The party wasn't tame.

They had a little playbarn
Where shuffle board was played:
The Penny's played the Fox's,
The Penny's had it made.

And Bigelow the pool shark,
With Flick the lady star:
Did their best to make the rest
Misque their only par.

So, from this song you'll gather
Our class had lots of fun,
But now the trip is over,
And classes have begun.

Poul Rundlett in a rare skiing pose, standing up.

The ski instructor expounds upon the primary points of the sport.

Joe Andrews and Paul German clown it up during NAUTILUS Talent Night.

Sophomore girls taking care of some Frosh for initiation.

Merritt Mann and Ralph Parry take another luckless freshman out into the night.

SOPHOMORES

We started the year by giving the freshmen a rousing welcome. More fun . . .

We enjoyed several activities as a class this year. Outstanding among them was our skating party at the Blue Hills and the Sophomore outing held at Babcock's Lodge at Ponkapog Park. Prof. Babcock acted as chef and we all had a tremendous time.

Under Dick Shubert, our President, and Ronnie Calhoun, our chaplain, we enjoyed a good year scholastically, socially, and spiritually.

Now we are upperclassmen and look foreward to the next two years as the best and most profitable of our college career.

FRESHMEN

Our first year at college—it was different, to say the least. Dorm life, living away from home, college classes such as Western Civ. and Rhetoric, classmates, all helped to provide one of the most interesting years in our lives.

We remember the class outings to the Blue Hills and with the Sophomores. The class meetings, prayer meetings, and class duties such as raising the flag every morning and welcoming the caravans provided us with instruction and practice.

We never quite got over Freshman Day when the Sophomores "humbled" us. Clean-up details, outlandish costumes, singing the "Alma Mater" for anyone who asked were really fun although we did not admit it to our superiors.

SCHOOL

For several years Eastern Nazarene College has been increasingly aware of the need for a two-year program of terminal studies which would provide high school graduates with an education more immediately practical than the full four year college program and yet include the cultural and spiritual opportunities which the college program offers. To meet this need Eastern Nazarene College has inaugurated the School of Practical Arts and Letters. The PAL course, as it is known, stresses those subjects and skills which may help directly in the pursuit of a livelihood and the development of Christian service.

GREEN BOOK

Every year the freshman class produces the Greenbook which is a composite of outstanding freshman themes. In it every phase of E. N. C. life is covered. It also contains pictures, special features, public opinion polls, and other items of interest to give us a permanent record of our freshman year.

Under the able leadership of Lowell Hall, editor-in-chief, and Prof. Spangenberg, our faculty advisor, we have compiled our record, which in the future will be our memory of the past.

The times of meditation and worship were central in our college life. We remember the Sunday services, the revivals, the intimate prayer meetings, and the chapel services which provided a break in the middle of a busy day. We remember the many opportunities for Christian service on campus and in the community which made our RELIGIOUS LIFE fruitful as well as instructive.

TIMES OF MEDITATION AND WORSHIP

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends:

This is your book of memories, and doubtless you will cherish it deeply. There is a song which has become quite popular during recent months, entitled "Memories Are Made of This." It is a lovely, nostalgic song, and it points out that memories have a content. What are yours made of?

College memories are made up of adventures in learning, the discovery of new and thrilling truth, the satisfaction that maturing years bring, friendships that are deep and abiding. But E.N.C. memories have one ingredient which gives tone and zest and a greatly enhanced worth to all the rest: the memory of blessed and hallowed seasons of fellowship with Christ. Perhaps it was a time of peculiar inspiration which came to you in solitude, or in the company of a prayer group. Perhaps it was in a service of worship, where hitherto unseen vistas opened before the eyes of your soul; or a revival service where your burdened prayer for some fellow-student was graciously answered. Perhaps it was a moment when there came to you from God a mighty accession of strength which made you under Him equal to the burden given you to bear. These memories add meaning to the whole flood which sweep over you as you turn these pages.

It is my prayer that memories like these will continue to hallow your days while life shall last.

Your pastor,
J. GLENN GOULD

Rev. Floyd O. Fleming, Assistant Pastor.

COLLEGE CHURCH

The Wollaston Church of the Nazarene, which is the college church, provides complete facilities for the spiritual life of the campus. Although it serves the community as well as the school the Wollaston church is considered the home church to many of the students during their four years stay. Students may become associate members of the church while keeping their home-town memberships.

The regular church services, the Wednesday evening prayer meetings, the Sunday School, and the several revivals during the year all provide ample opportunities for spiritual development and well being.

This year the Wollaston Church obtained an Assistant Pastor, Rev. Floyd O. Fleming, in addition to its regular pastor, Dr. J. Glenn Gould. Rev. Fleming makes it his job to minister especially to the college students.

In order that our students have an exercised Christian faith, the Evangelistic Association was organized to provide opportunities for soul-winning and experience in other types of religious activities for the Kingdom. The Association affords a means for Christian workers to effectively reach needy souls in many areas that would be otherwise untouched by the gospel of salvation and holiness. The Association has thus provided spiritual exercise for the Christian youth at E. N. C., becoming the largest and most active organization on campus.

This year's program has provided five areas of service:

(1) The Hospital Choir which sings in the Quincy Hospital and four nursing homes each Sunday.

(2) Visitation groups which serve in four communities including Wollaston, South Boston, Quincy Point, and Holbrook. These visits are made chiefly in the interest of building up the surrounding Nazarene churches.

(3) The Boston Nazarene Chapel which is not only dedicated to the task of bringing the gospel of Jesus Christ to men and women and boys and girls of Boston's South End, but also in attempting to establish the first Church of the Nazarene in Boston.

(4) Mission group workers who hold services in the various missions of Boston, striving to bring Christ to many of great need.

(5) The Army missile base of the 514th battalion, a new area opened this year to minister to approximately one hundred and fifty men who are without a chaplain.

We of the Evangelistic Association thus believe that "The Fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and he that winneth souls is wise, and they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever."

NAZARENE YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY

The aim of the Nazarene Young People's Society this year has been to become a channel through which God could speak to us students, and an avenue through which we could serve Him.

All students were given an opportunity to participate in their own District service during the first semester. Second semester the services were planned by groups like the professional women's Sunday School class, the professors and their wives, and the young married couples.

One of the greatest contributions of the society this year has been in the administration of three courses: "Personal Evangelism" for future laymen; "Practics" for future preachers; and "The Queen of the Parsonage" for future preachers' wives.

This was a year of "firsts" for the N.Y.P.S. It was the first year N.Y.P.S. services were held during the summer; the first year the Wollaston N.Y.P.S. took an attendance banner at a zone rally; the first year that bi-monthly singspirations were sponsored; the first year that "student pastors" were appointed on campus in conjunction with organization of the prayer "cells;" and the first year in which a Lamp Lighter's League was organized.

Again this year the society sponsored the spring youth revival. Reverend Kenneth Pearsall of Akron, Ohio, was the special worker and presented messages of challenge and inspiration to us all.

God blessed the N.Y.P.S. this year with larger attendance, bigger offerings, more activities, and a keener vision of the society's purpose here on campus.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Student Ministerial Association is composed of all those who have a call to the Christian Ministry. The meetings of the association are for the purpose of helping young men and women to be better prepared to serve God and their fellow men.

Realizing the seriousness of their calling and the vast opportunities that lie ahead, this year the association's aim has been to encourage personal spirituality.

Faculty members and visiting ministers have brought challenging messages and led discussions in which members participate.

STUDENT FOREIGN MISSIONARY FELLOWSHIP

The Student Foreign Mission Fellowship is a chapter of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, which is a national organization. Membership in the society consists of active and associate members. The active members are those who feel God's call on their lives and are preparing to answer the call. The associate members are those who promise to give missions its rightful place in their lives.

The purpose of the society is three-fold:

(1) To spread the knowledge of the foreign mission field to the students of this institution and thus helping them to fulfill their obligation of making Christ known in all of the world.

(2) To help Christian students to realize and carry out their missionary responsibility, and to help students who are praying about the missionary call to know God's will for them.

(3) To promote the close association of Christian students who are looking forward to foreign missionary service through fellowship, prayer for missions, and active service.

This year we have been active in collecting, packing, and sending used clothing to our missionaries. We have cooperated with the local church missionary programs and offerings. This year for the first time we sponsored three missionaries who lectured in various classes so that the students might better understand the work of the missionary. This we have done "THAT THEY MIGHT KNOW HIM."

FALL PARTY

It's TWIRP WEEK, with girls running to and fro, climbing in windows, hiding behind trees, borrowing cars, securing small loans and finally cornering some unfortunate male. Having once been subdued most of the gentlemen quietly awaited their fates. "Mean while, back at the ranch" (Munro Hall) the scavenger hunt was on. The girls begged, borrowed and basted costumes for the Mardi Gras, the climax of TWIRP WEEK. The excitement of New Orleans came to our gym with multicolored streamers, a sidewalk cafe and creole melodies. Candied apples, cider and popcorn were devoured with drooling appetites.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The first meeting of the student council this year was a dinner and conference at the home of President Mann. After the evening's work was finished, President Mann remarked that he had never known a student council that had gotten more accomplished in a single evening. This is significant of the accomplishments of the council. The council felt obligated to be a sounding board for the students and to be a more active force in helping to formulate the rules and regulations affecting the student body. Besides sponsoring the usual Fall, Christmas, and Spring Parties, the council sponsored refreshments after the weekly Singspiration, films of general interest, and the piano concert given by Erno Balogh. The council obtained many improvements such as lights in the parking lots and a water cooler in the gym. The members of the 1955-56 Student Council were as follows: Jay Bergers, graduate students; John Carlson, president; Howard Chambers, sophomore class; Phyllis Collins, vice-president; David Grosse, Sigma society; Betty Harris, freshman class; Henry Henderson, Zeta society; DeLysle Henry, Nautilus staff; Richard Lehto, Delta society; Ronald Mickel, junior class; Dallas Mucci, senior class; Pershing Parker, Campus Camera staff; and Richard Shubert, Kappa society.

Dallas Mucci gets inspiration for a new story.

To the students at E. N. C. and to their parents and friends at home the Campus Camera is a bi-weekly report of past activities, coming events, personal glimpses, and student opinion.

To the editor and staff members the college newspaper is the product of varied tasks: planning, reporting, rewriting, typing, and preparing layout and headlines. Through these activities students gain practical experience in journalism.

Sharing ideas and working cooperatively to produce a newspaper which merits a high rating by the Associated Collegiate Press and the approval of its readers, is a challenge to every staff member.

Barbara Hemmings is pleased with this week's editian.

BOWNE PHILOSOPHICAL

The Bowne Philosophical Society is organized for concentrated study in philosophy and theology. The project of this year was the study of liberalism. Guest speakers of various minorities presented their views on the subject and discussed them with the Christian's point of view of liberalism.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Association promotes interest in the chemical field and furthers the knowledge of this science by visiting various laboratories such as the Eastern Gas and Fuel Association, Monsanto Chemical Company, and the Esso Refinery. There were several informative lectures sponsored by the association this year.

The primary object of the Psychology Club is to arouse interest in Psychology both in the department and the student body. Highlighting the year's fall program was a tour of the State Hospital at Danvers where diagnoses and various types of therapy were observed and studied first-hand. Films dealing with Psychological problems of marriage and childhood were viewed in the lecture hall, and speakers from various institutions in Boston were enjoyed by the club.

SPANISH CLUB

Los Estrellas, "The Stars" Spanish Club attempts to give a definite purpose and meaning to the study of the Spanish language. The club centers its activities around the purpose of the promotion of a better understanding with their Spanish American neighbors. This year there was a panel discussion on the new teaching ideas presented in Spanish elementary grade schools. Travelogues, films, and a special party with a guest Speaker are all part of their program.

AUDIO VISUAL AIDS CLUB

The Audio Visual Aids Club has a three-fold purpose as a service club. It is the first club of its kind at the college. The members sponsor the showing of films for the school programs. They teach those interested how to use visual aid equipment. The use of films, slides, and film strips are greatly encouraged by this club in the classroom.

HOUSE COUNCIL

LITERATURE AND SPEECH CLUB

The Literature and Speech Club is organized under the auspices of Dean Munro and Miss Spangenberg to further familiarize students with contemporary writers. Included in the club's activities are visits to Concord and Lexington and all points of literary interest in the vicinity of Boston. In an informal atmosphere, the group enjoys reading and discussing various aspects of literature.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers Association provides an excellent opportunity for students to promote their interest in the field of teaching techniques. The members have formed an F.T.A. in one of the local high schools. There are special speakers sponsored each year by the association, which have proved to be very interesting and informative.

Seated: Q. Cane, G. Kattis, S. Lynch, D. Penney, Praf. Parsons, A. Clark, P. North, J. Schlosser, E. Boss. Second row: L. Flick, B. Adams, V. Mastrobuono, L. Gaod, N. Mucci, M. Boshart, S. Everton, D. Lupton, R. Whittenberger, D. Henry, D. Schnepf, P. Gorron, D. Herron, D. Benner, J. Carlson, J. Lotford, H. Mickel.

The Biology Association provides an excellent opportunity for students interested in Biological sciences to further their study. The members have been very instrumental in the campus appearance this year. The Biology Association has sponsored many field trips such as mountain climbing, fishing, overnight camping trips, and visits to the museum. Students have acquired a great interest in this science because of the activities of the association in which they can participate.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Seated: F. Landers, N. Wilson, M. Moore, M. Gront, B. Loveless, G. Grant, C. Burgess, I. Stanford. Second: B. Landers, S. Hodjion, T. Esselstyn, J. Latford, W. Stanford, R. Burke, F. Boden, R. Kyer. Third: E. Tioh, E. Coirns, M. McLean, K. Hardy, F. MacMillan, C. Owens, W. Mullen, K. Alcorn, J. Mori.

E. N. C.'s foreign students are significant of the fact that the college's influence reaches beyond the shores of our own country. Although many of the foreign students are really Canadians who live closer to Boston than students from Ohio, some come from as far away as Japan, Nigeria, and Ireland.

Front: Prof. Williamson, F. Oddo, D. Mattmueller, R. Andrews, J. Roberts, J. Bradley, A. Clark, R. Metcalfe, M. Moore, N. Wilson, P. North. Second: D. Brown, N. Mucci, R. Swanke, M. Burley, C. A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The general purpose of the A Cappella Choir is to give students a chance to sing some of the choice selections of music and get acquainted with its literature— the old as well as the new.

Much effort and hard work go into the singing of the Messiah which is given each year by the choir.

The tour of the Eastern Educational Zone taken during E. N. C.'s Spring Vacation is a climax to a busy year of rehearsing. New York, Maine, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, and Rhode Island were the states covered.

WORKING STUDENTS

Most of the students at Eastern Nazarene College work part or full time while attending school. Many work on campus as janitors, caretakers, kitchen help, Dugout help, and secretaries to the professors. Others get jobs in the stores and factories in the prosperous city of Quincy.

John Costley examines some plants in the greenhouse. John and Professor Babcock make E. N. C.'s campus blossom with thousands of flowers each summer.

Tom Jones and Tom Fowler rake leaves on the lawn.

SOCIETIES

Doug Peoples leaves to help solicit Freshmen on Rush Day.

The four Greek letter societies provide one of the most popular bases for organized campus activity. Since each student joins either the Delta, Kappa, Sigma, or Zeta society he has an opportunity to participate in the programs, outings, and prayer meetings of one of the societies. The societies solicit new members each year on "Rush Day" through displays and programs. The intra-mural sports are organized by societies. The societies are competitive, a trophy being given each year to the society which has accumulated the most points by winning at sports. The pictures on these pages are representative of the activities in which all the societies participate.

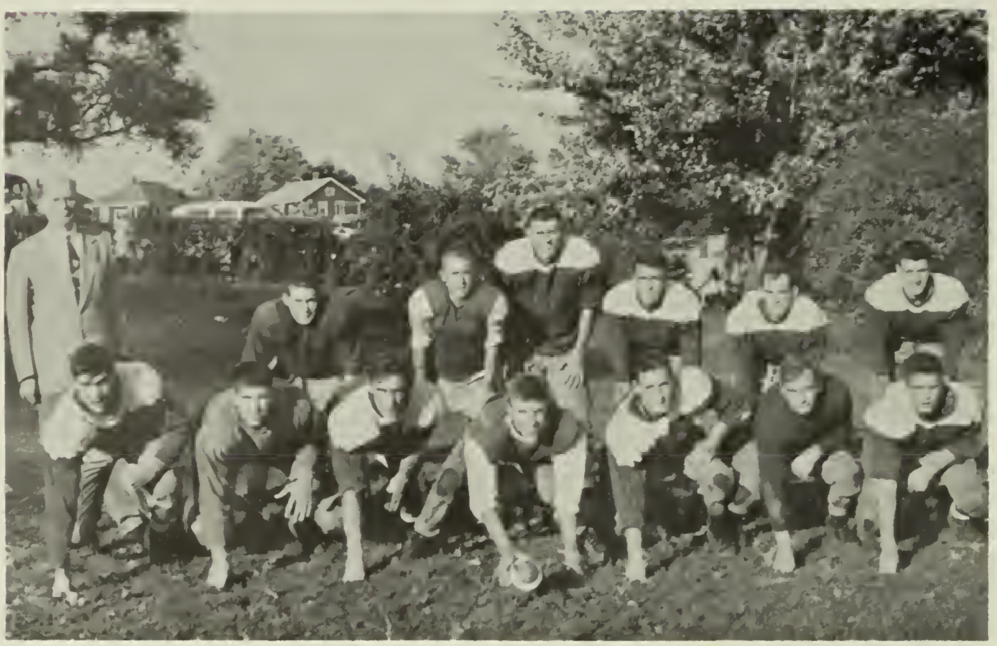
FOOT



E. N. C. football season came to a climax with the Red and Black on top with an undefeated record. The introduction of the two platoon system was adopted for the first time by all four squads, which made for stiffer competition than in years past. Mother nature was around with plenty of wet weather which added extra thrills and spills throughout the season.

BALL

As the "55" season approached, all eyes were focused on the Kappas and Sigmas as the teams to beat. But, as the season progressed, the Deltas and Zetas made their bids for first place honors. As the final whistle sounded, and all games were tabulated, we found the earlier prediction becoming a reality.

Front row: J. Wessel, C. Caldwell, R. Hauck, W. Kelvington, H. Henderson, T. Young. Back row: J. Chavier, G. Lashley, O. Eller, W. Grace, R. Everhart.

The downtown stores and the hometown churches represented our constituency. We were able to come to E. N. C. because of the support of the churches. The yearbook staff was able to put out a better NAUTILUS because of the stores. The ADVERTISEMENTS in this book represent this constituency.

Long-standing customers, both yearbook staffs and advisors, are enthusiastic over the Keller yearbook program because experience has proved that application of its various services has made the job pleasant, easy, and gratifying.

Our intimate method of yearbook counsel and assistance, based upon continual service, is governed by a sincere desire to maintain the reputation that every Keller book is distinctive and custom-built. Many, as a result, win top critical awards.
